Through the Lens of Future Generations “Being a Good Ancestor”

Have you ever considered how you will be viewed by future generations? Will you be remembered as someone with integrity? Foresight? Valor? Heart?

Last month, many of us considered that very question when Rabbi Steven Leder spoke at a Foundation event about Being a Good Ancestor in honor of the legacy of Allan Fainbarg, of blessed memory. Rabbi Leder, named by Newsweek magazine as one of the ten most influential rabbis in America and bestselling author of More Money Than God: Living a Rich Life Without Losing Your Soul, serves as the Senior Rabbi for Wilshire Boulevard Temple in Los Angeles. His interactive discussion hit on considering the emphasis society places on commercial value, and whether we authentically act in accordance with our own true values.

After an uplifting conversation, each of us had the opportunity to create our personal Ethical Wills to share our values with our loved ones and to consider the question: What will my legacy be?

Foundation Welcomes Financial Manager Daniel Robles

Last month we welcomed our newest team member, Daniel Robles, as our Financial Manager. Daniel is a native of Southern California, growing up with a profound dedication to contributing to our local communities. With a degree in Business Administration with an emphasis in accounting, his financial and systems management experience spans over a decade. Daniel served as a Blackbaud, Inc. consultant to non-profit organizations throughout the United States and Canada. Most recently he held the position of Accounting Manager for Wilshire Boulevard Temple in Los Angeles, CA. He currently resides in Long Beach with his spouse and two children and is an active member of his community.

If you have not yet had the chance to meet Daniel, please stop by and introduce yourself. As an additional incentive, Daniel tends to have a pile of chocolate on his desk at all times.
